ABSTRACT

An instruction associated with a condition is executed. In executing the instruction, a first operation designated by the instruction is performed to produce a first result, and a second operation is performed to produce a second result. Both the first result and the second result are 5   associated with the condition.